

I don't understand how a large corporation, such as Sinclair, can air material that shows disfavor for one candidate just before an election. Please clarify for me what the law requires in this regard.